

Youth Sports...Reimagined!

The Opportunity

Kids that play sports and remain physically active are...

60% - More likely to live a healthy lifestyle as adults.

40% - More likely to graduate from high school.

35% - Higher GPA and test scores.

25% - More likely to go to college.

The Challenge

Over the past 25 years, youth sports has experienced unprecedented growth.

During this time, the cost and complexity of youth sports, as well as budget cuts to school and community athletics, have made this valuable experience unviable for many families.

Furthermore, in the current pay for play era, the once core attributes of fun, fitness and teamwork have been replaced by pressure, specialization, individualism and unrealistic goals.

These trends have left families chasing fragmented and expensive solutions, and created a significant demand for expert information, guidance and support.

Our Solution

In partnership with leading universities,
PLAYERSNEXT will deliver innovative programming,
a game-changing technology resource,
and sustainable financial support,
designed to inspire, empower and develop
our next generation through sports.

From Our Founder...

Thank you for taking the time to learn more about our mission!

At PLAYERSNEXT we're focused on impacting and developing young lives, and our platform just happens to be sports.

Our focus is on grades 5-10, where we believe inspiration can be ignited and positive core values can be instilled, and ultimately last a lifetime.

We hope you choose to "join our quest", and we're excited to offer many ways to get involved – including investment, philanthropy, volunteer and career opportunities.

Thanks again, and please feel free to contact me with any questions or feedback!

Best Regards,

Rob Jeske
